

What Can the Library Do for You?

Welcome to Gallaudet's Graduate School! You're entering an exciting stage of your academic career, where you'll have a bigger academic workload than in your undergraduate years. That's why you should get to know the Library. Here's what we've got for you:

- Over a quarter of a million books, over 8,000 films on DVD and VHS, and electronic access to over 36,000 academic journals!
 - Just go to <http://library.gallaudet.edu> to get started!
- The largest collection of deaf-related materials in the world
- ALADIN, our online library catalog that you can access from anywhere (<http://aladin.wrlc.org>)
- Free access to RefWorks, to manage your citations!
- Free wireless Internet access
- 20 public-access computers free to use for Gallaudet students
- Plenty of study space, including couches, private desks, and comfortable chairs
 - You can also eat and drink in the Library; we have vending machines!
- Classrooms for private group studies
- Tables with power strips for laptops and cell phones
- 12 TVs, including one that's 55 inches
- Four friendly, knowledgeable librarians who are more than happy to help you out! Just use the attached card and make an appointment anytime.
- Open until midnight most nights
- We've also got a blog! Check out <http://gallylibrary.blogspot.com> to get the latest news about the Library's newest offerings, find tips on how to conduct research, and get to know your librarians!
- The Gallaudet University Archives (<http://archives.gallaudet.edu>) is just downstairs!
- That's just at Gallaudet. We're also a part of the Washington Research Libraries Consortium, which includes schools like Georgetown University, George Mason University, and Catholic University.
 - This means a grand total of 4 million books you can borrow! We're still afraid to count how many academic journals this also means ...
- We're flexible if you want to get in touch:
 - 866-957-4416 (VP)
 - Library.help@gallaudet.edu
 - AIM: GallyLibraryIM
 - Contact us through the Meebo Library Chat on library.gallaudet.edu!
- Need anything else? Just ask! If you need anything, just let us know and we'll help you out!

Drop by the Merrill Learning Center and check us out (along with a few books)!
